Walker were apparently acceptable thruout, altho he led the fight against the proposal. His rulings frequently drew cheers and "hurrah for Jack."

When a roar of votes, vivi voce, downed "resolution 13" and a comparatively weak response followed when the "nays" were called, President Walker commented, "the chair is in doubt" and gave the order for the count.

FLOGGINGS AND ASSAULT BRING LEGAL ACTIONS

Indictments Returned Against Prominent Public Men.

(By the Associated Press)
DALLAS, TEXAS, Sept. 12.—Indictments alleging connection with recent floggings and white-cappings, charging assault with prohibited weapons, others charging misconduct in office, and still others swindling, were returned almost simultaneously this evening against men who have been high in public life over the southwest.

C. M. Reber, former major of the Oklahoma National Guard and Malcolm Couch, formerly chief of the Shawnee, Okla., fire department, are alleged to have directed the abduction and whipping of Claude McCannan and Frank Cole in March 1922 when, according to charges filed this evening at Shawnee, about 200 Ku Klux Klansmen took part in a flogging party. County Attorney Hendon filed the charges.

TEXAS INDICTMENTS
Indictments against Sheriff Less Whitaker, County Attorney Henry Ford and four others were also returned today by the Potter county grand jury at Amarillo, Texas. The indictments were returned in connection with the recent flogging here of E. T. McDonald who was severely beaten and a coat of tar and leather applied to his body. The sheriff and the county attorney were charged with misconduct in office while the other four men are charged with assault with a prohibited weapon. The other four men indicted are T. W. Stanford, G. O. Gall, W. L. Honeycutt and Andy Knox. The latter three are each charged with assault with a prohibited weapon and whitecapping, while a second charge of whitecapping is made against Stanford. Three indictments are also charging aggravating assault, false imprisonment and assault with intent to kill, were also returned against Stanford, making six indictments against him. Bonds for Gall, Honeycutt and Knox were set at $6,000 while Stanford's bond in the six cases amounts to $10,250.

It is not believed that Whitaker and Ford will be removed from office as the indictments are of a misdemeanor nature. Rangers were sent here to investigate the case and charges against all the men under indictment with the exception of Ford were filed. Whitaker was charged with being an accomplice in the flogging. The grand jury has been investigating the case for two weeks and scores of witnesses have appeared before the body.

R. L. Abbott, former county superintendent of public education is charged with theft in three indictments and with swindling in three others, among 51 indictments returned this evening by the McLennan county grand jury at Waco, Texas.

There has been a constant yearly increase in prohibition prosecutions, the report showed, while jail sentences for the past 23 months have totalled more than 3,000 years.

Attorney General Daugherty's report also disclosed that more than a year ago he sent a special series of instructions to district attorneys on prohibition enforcement, demanding a more relentless campaign against bootleggers and other prohibition violators, especially cliques, "rings" and so-called "leaders" in all large cities.

Percent Convicted.
In eighty per cent of federal court cases the report said the defendants were found guilty. Altho the records for the last fiscal year are not complete, the report estimated that there had been at least 10,000 more convictions than in the preceding year and 15,000 more than for two years ago. These figures Mr. Daugherty said, indicated a stricter enforcement.

Many Cases a Day.
Prohibition cases have been brought in the federal courts at an average of 73.4 a day since the law went into effect, the attorney general said, but this rate was exceeded during the last year the average being 111 a day.

ILLINOIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEAD CHALLENGES HUNTER

Outgrowth of Statement
Made Before Labor
Federation

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—In reply to statements attributed to Colonel Samuel M. Hunter in a speech at the State Federation of Labor at Decatur yesterday, John H. Camlin, president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in a statement today denied that Colonel Hunter, who was sent by the adjutant general to Herrick just before the mine killing there, had been approached by agents of the chamber to testify against labor leaders.

"No member and no agent of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce was ever authorized by us to approach Colonel Samuel M. Hunter with a plan to testify that President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, International President Farrington of the United Mine Workers, President Walker and Secretary Olander of the State Federation of Labor had entered into a conspiracy to close the Lester mine at Herrick, by violence," Mr. Camlin asserted.

CLOTHING IS URGENT NEED FOR JAPANESE

Approaching Cold Weather Calls For Quick Action.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Japan's dire need of clothing and building material to protect the multitude of earthquake sufferers was recognized today by the American Red Cross which authorized the quick shipment of hundreds of thousands of pieces of underwear and outer clothing as well as large quantities of corrugated iron.

Urgent requests came from the stricken men that the advent of cold weather made immediate action imperative.

An indication that the Japanese government is fearful that freezing weather will take a heavy toll from the half nourished population was found in a message received at the Japanese embassy here. It said that in addition to shelter and clothing, heating apparatus of all types was needed and gasoline was asked for.

The Relief Fund.
The relief fund being collected in the United States for the sufferers grew steadily today with $5,663,100 entered on the books at nightfall. This sum is exclusive of the $122,500 cash gift made early last week by the American Red Cross.

Ambassador Hanihara advised the state department today in delivering a message from the Tokyo foreign office that while Japan was deeply grateful for foreign aid the government preferred that the contributions be confined to money and supplies rather than relief personnel who, unfamiliar with language and customs in coming to Japan at this time might add to existing confusion.

Such security, said the chancellor, would in every way be superior to the pledges prescribed in the Versailles treaty, which only enumerate governmental properties, none of which possess productivity equalling that of private holdings which Germany proposes to hypothecate for the benefit of reparations.

Unless France is bent on imposing Germany's pledges, he contended, were of such a nature as to meet the conditions under which France once prepared to evacuate the irrupted areas. He believed that the positive guarantees offered by Germany would impress Great Britain and Italy with her desire to achieve a solution of the problem and would suggest to Belgium their assembly as a means of overcoming the deadlock and opening the way to European reconstruction.

GERMANY IS READY TO ACT TO SECURE FREEDOM OF RUHR

Chancellor Makes Tacit Admission that Passive Resistance is Failure—Not Ready to Call it Off Unconditionally But Prepared to Make Satisfactory Guarantees.

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Chancellor Stresemann in an address today declared:
"We are ready to give real guarantees in order to secure the freedom of the Ruhr."

He admitted that a solution of the problem could not be obtained by passive resistance.

Tacitly admitting that the Ruhr fight had been lost and that there could be no prospect of the internal reconstruction of Germany until the conflict had been adjusted, Chancellor Stresemann tonight remarked to a gathering of editors:
"Candor is preferable to illusion and Germany desires to speak out plainly."

Informal contract with the occupying powers had revealed the gravity of the existing difference which, he said, primarily involved the question of German sovereignty and the restoration to Germany of complete administrative freedom in the Ruhr.

The chancellor's speech did not contain a direct reference to readiness on the part of Germany to call off passive resistance unconditionally, but presented a more precise formulation of the nature of the productive guarantees which Germany was prepared to pledge for the security of the reparations creditors. These would comprise the hypothecation of private holdings in industry, commerce, finance and agriculture, in such a manner as to insure their immediate fluidity as active loanable collateral.

Such security, said the chancellor, would in every way be superior to the pledges prescribed in the Versailles treaty, which only enumerate governmental properties, none of which possess productivity equalling that of private holdings which Germany proposes to hypothecate for the benefit of reparations.

Unless France is bent on imposing Germany's pledges, he contended, were of such a nature as to meet the conditions under which France once prepared to evacuate the irrupted areas. He believed that the positive guarantees offered by Germany would impress Great Britain and Italy with her desire to achieve a solution of the problem and would suggest to Belgium their assembly as a means of overcoming the deadlock and opening the way to European reconstruction.

DESTRUCTION AND INFLATION

As America gladdly speeds its aid to Japan it should also heed the timely warning of economists. They remind the nation that it took the lumber companies of the Pacific Coast region nearly a decade to recover from the artificial inflation which followed the rebuilding of San Francisco after its earthquake and fire of 1906. They remind the public also of the economic events which have followed the World War. Headlong inflation is always a serious mistake. If not actually an economic crime. Any great disaster which means the destruction of wealth and property is a loss to the whole world and must be borne by the world. The stimulated processes of rehabilitation do not mean general prosperity, for they are essential in order merely to replace the destroyed materials. They postpone getting ahead.

Destruction is destruction, and in the long run profiting by another's loss and misfortune is a difficult thing.

THE PONY EXPRESS

Much has been said and written lately, properly enough, in praise of the "pony express" which carried a mail pouch from St. Joseph, Mo., to San Francisco, in emulation of the old pioneer express of the '60s. It was really a remarkable feat. Seventy-five couriers participated, covering the 2,180 miles at an average speed of 13 3/4 miles an hour, a gain of three miles an hour over the old schedule.

Yet the thing shown most clearly by this undertaking was the gain made by man in discarding the horse for transportation purposes. The best time those expert riders could make, with the best horses available, over improved roads, was 15 1/2 hours. Suppose it took that long to carry every mail bag from St. Joseph to San Francisco. A flivver can turn the trick in half the time, to say nothing of railroads and airplanes.

With all due regard to man's good old friend, the horse, it must be admitted that as a vehicle that beast is woefully awkward and inefficient.

GERMANY READY TO YIELD

The industrial workers in the Ruhr and other occupied regions are reported to have received orders to stop their "passive resistance" against the French. Big German business men are preparing to send representatives to France to sound out the French government regarding concessions. It is expected that the German government will soon approach the French government directly, to bring about an understanding and a new plan for reparations payment.

So things are moving at last. The Germans, after seven months of striking and stalling, have about made up their minds that there is nothing to gain by such a policy. They expected the world's sympathy, and did not get it. The world, while inclined to lack sympathy with the sword-wielding Poincare government, nevertheless wanted to see Germany pay, and criticized both countries rather impartially. Both, therefore, will breathe a sigh of relief if they succeed in coming to terms.

With their agreement, a new era may open for Europe, which may be farther along with its recovery than most Americans suppose.

White Hall, Sept. 12.—The first consignment of machines for the new knitting mills arrived in White Hall Tuesday afternoon by auto trucks from St. Louis. The 40 machines were conveyed in two five-ton trucks, and they left St. Louis Monday morning. The delay was occasioned by breaking thru four bridges on the route, requiring road commissioners to be summoned to provide for their safe transit over them after being extricated. Nothing serious resulted from either accident, but it proved that the public highways are not ready for such heavy traffic. The mills will get in operation in the old opera house next week, which affords floor space 87 by 65 feet, and has been put in the best condition to receive the equipment.

As was true at the initial performance, the style show and entertainment feature greatly pleased the audience, and it was the general opinion of all that it was one of the best shows of the kind ever given locally.

The several firms which co-operated in giving the style show each had models upon whom were exhibited the various articles of apparel, and this proved most interesting to those present. The firms having part in the show were Hopper & Ham Furniture Co., H. J. Smith ready to wear and millinery, Myers Bros., clothing, Edwin Smart Shoe Co. Hopper & Son shoe store.

LIFE JOURNEY ENDS FOR MRS. CONSTANCE SMITH

Deceased Long Prominent in Musical Life of City and State, Funeral to Be Held Friday.

With the death of Mrs. Constance Barlow Smith, which occurred Wednesday morning at Our Saviour's hospital, a life of unusual worth and usefulness came to its close. As a child Mrs. Smith came to Jacksonville from New York City. She was born in London and the family came to America a few years prior to their change of residence from New York to Jacksonville.

It was to establish the Conservatory of Music which was made a department of the Athenaeum that Professor Barlow, a thorough musician, came to the city. The atmosphere in which Mrs. Smith lived even as a child was distinctly musical and that fact had its influence on her life in the after years. Her musical education in Jacksonville was supplemented by study in the east. Then naturally there came further musical work in the home city, all of it somewhat preparatory to the position Mrs. Smith took later as supervisor of music in the Jacksonville public schools.

This line of activity was really Mrs. Smith's life work, and her constant of it was largely influential in shaping the methods used not only in the public schools of Jacksonville but also in the schools and colleges of a much larger area.

After a successful experience of some years here in this city, Mrs. Smith was called to become the head of the department of school music at the University of Illinois. There her ability and enthusiasm in the department grew amazingly and it was not long until it was necessary to associate a number of assistants with her. At the university Mrs. Smith was appointed assistant professor because of her unusually successful work, the university authorities in a case varying the rule which requires a collegiate education and degrees before such preferment can be given.

Recognition of what Mrs. Smith's work meant to public school music was seen in her activities with the National Musical Association and the National Educational Association in addition to various state gatherings of musicians and educators. She was continually called upon for the preparation of papers upon the subject to which she was giving her life, or for the discussion of themes relating to it.

Even in the very early years of her music work Mrs. Smith recognized the value of musical study in its relationship to large assemblies and she sensed the meaning of mass singing and its connection with public uplift and the strengthening of community life.

But while the professional side of Mrs. Smith's life had its strong influence, after all it was her intensely human instincts that counted most of all. While interested in music and musical work, she recognized as foremost the value of character building. She was interested in her pupils and those about her as they developed the characteristics of worthy manhood and womanhood. She made her pupils her friends and in both direct and indirect ways sought to lead toward the higher ideals of life.

A gentle spirit of friendliness characterized Mrs. Smith throughout all the years. She was tolerant and broad-minded. Some people who are thoroly musical become narrowed by their work, but just the opposite was true of Mrs. Smith. For the years her interest was maintained in all the good things of life.

Mrs. Smith gave herself unsparringly to public tasks and many will remember the large part that she took thru a period of years in the musical work of Trinity Episcopal church, which she loved so well. Although resident in California for some time Mrs. Smith really belonged to Jacksonville, and this was her home city. Ill for a period of months in the west it was her desire to return to Jacksonville before the final day, should come and that wish was gratified.

Mrs. Smith leaves one daughter, Mrs. J. Weir Elliott, and one son, Herbert L. Smith, both of this city.

Funeral services will be held

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Trinity church, with the services in charge of Rev. J. F. Langton. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Peters of this city and W. H. Robinson of Merritt, and one daughter, Mrs. Harriett Crab of Jacksonville. Mrs. Clark is also survived by 18 grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

JESSE JOHNSON TAKEN BY COPS LAST NIGHT

Came Back to City After Absence of Several Weeks — Escaped Capture When Booze Was Found in Home.

Jesse Johnson, in whose house police confiscated six gallons of red mule whiskey several weeks ago, was arrested last night by members of the night force. Johnson had stolen back to town after a long absence and failed to get away before police apprehended him. He told Chief Kiloran that he has been in Springfield, Hannibal, and as far west as Kansas since his escape after the raiding of his premises. He also said he had been in the city three different times and had been quick to make his escape when he thought he had stayed long enough.

It will be remembered that the raid on Johnson's house here netted six gallon jugs of mule. Police believe that Johnson was only a distributing agent for larger salesmen of booze and did not own the liquor himself. He has been locked in the police station and will doubtless be turned over to the county court today.

DESTRUCTION AND INFLATION
As America gladly speeds its aid to Japan it should also heed the timely warning of economists. They remind the nation that it took the lumber companies of the Pacific Coast region nearly a decade to recover from the artificial inflation which followed the rebuilding of San Francisco after its earthquake and fire of 1906. They remind the public also of the economic events which have followed the World War. Headlong inflation is always a serious mistake. If not actually an economic crime. Any great disaster which means the destruction of wealth and property is a loss to the whole world and must be borne by the world. The stimulated processes of rehabilitation do not mean general prosperity, for they are essential in order merely to replace the destroyed materials. They postpone getting ahead.

Destruction is destruction, and in the long run profiting by another's loss and misfortune is a difficult thing.

Her musical education in Jacksonville was supplemented by study in the east. Then naturally there came further musical work in the home city, all of it somewhat preparatory to the position Mrs. Smith took later as supervisor of music in the Jacksonville public schools.

This line of activity was really Mrs. Smith's life work and her conception of it was largely influential in shaping the methods used not only in the public schools of Jacksonville but also in the schools and colleges of a much larger area.

After a successful experience of some years here in this city, Mrs. Smith was called to become the head of the department of school music at the University of Illinois. Thru her ability and enthusiasm the department grew amazingly and it was not long until it was necessary to associate a number of assistants with her. At the university Mrs. Smith was appointed assistant professor because of her unusually successful work, the university authorities in the varying the rule which requires a collegiate education and degrees before such preferment can be given.

Recognition of what Mrs. Smith's work meant to public school music was seen in her activities with the National Musical Association and the National Educational association in addition to various state gatherings of musicians and educators. She was continually called upon for the preparation of papers upon the subject to which she was giving her life, or for the discussion of themes relating to it.

Even in the very early years of her music work Mrs. Smith recognized the value of musical study in its relationship to large assemblies and she sensed the meaning of mass singing and its connection with public uplift and the strengthening of community life.

But while the professional side of Mrs. Smith's life had its strong influence, after all it was her intensely human instincts that counted most of all. While interested in music and musical work, she recognized as foremost the value of character building. She was interested in her pupils and those about her as they developed the characteristics of worthy manhood and womanhood. She made her pupils her friends and in both direct and indirect ways sought to lead toward the higher ideals of life.

A gentle spirit of friendliness characterized Mrs. Smith throughout all the years. She was tolerant and broad-minded. Some people who are thoroughly musical become narrowed by their work, but just the opposite was true of Mrs. Smith and thru the years her interest was maintained in all the good things of life.

Mrs. Smith gave herself unsparingly to public tasks and many will remember the large part that she took thru a period of years in the musical work of Trinity Episcopal church, which she loved so well. Also resident in California for some time Mrs. Smith really belonged to Jacksonville, and this was her home city, ill for a period of months in the west it was her desire to return to Jacksonville before the final days should come and that wish was gratified.

Mrs. Smith leaves one daughter, Mrs. J. Weir Elliott, and one son, Herbert L. Smith, both of this city.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Trinity church, with the services in charge of Rev. J. F. Langton. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

JESSE JOHNSON TAKEN BY COPS LAST NIGHT
Came Back to City After Absence of Several Weeks—Escaped Capture When Booze Was Found in Home

Jesse Johnson, in whose house police confiscated six gallons of red mule whiskey several weeks ago, was arrested last night by members of the night force. Johnson had stolen back to town after a long absence and failed to get away before police apprehended him. He told Chief Kiloran that he has been in Springfield, Hannibal, and as far west as Kansas since his escape after the raiding of his premises. He also said he had been in the city three different times and had been quick to make his escape when he thought he had stayed long enough.

It will be remembered that the raid on Johnson's house here netted six gallon jugs of mule. Police believe that Johnson was only a distributing agent for larger salesmen of booze and did not own the liquor himself. He has been locked in the police station and will doubtless be turned over to the county court today.

VISITED BATTLE FIELD IN EUROPE

Lieut. Fairbank Smith Writes of Changes That Have Taken Place Since the World War

Lieut. J. Fairbank Smith of Co. G, 51st Infantry, 5th Division, now in the first gas regiment chemical warfare, is at present on vacation in Europe. Lieut. Smith, who is accompanied by Mrs. Smith, has been visiting with special interest some of the areas with which he was familiar during the war time, for he spent an extended period overseas and had part in several of the important campaigns of the war.

Lieut. Smith recently wrote a letter to Jacksonville relatives from Luxembourg and his observations have special value because of the comparative viewpoint. Paragraphs from the letter are used herewith:

"We left the next day for Espinal by way of Belfast. We checked our bags to Aches and ran out to Archette. They haven't changed a bit. We stayed in Espinal at night and next day went to St. Die. Senones and Moyencourt, the sector held by the fifth division in July and August, 1918. It was interesting to be in Senones for it was held by the Germans all during the war, and we used to look down at it and wonder about it. De and I started out to climb Mere Henry from the Senones side, but had to give it up.

"It looked as barren and battle-scarred as ever, and I imagine the trenches and dugouts are practically untouched. From Senones we went back to Moyencourt, but the only familiar face was that of the station master and photographer, who used to do kodak printing for me.

An old farmer and his wife gave us a ride up to LaParie, where Co. G was for a couple of weeks. It was certainly changed. The ruined houses were all built up, and the village has returned to its old peaceful routine, and shows few signs of war on the surface.

"We went on to Nancy that night and were there about two days. From Nancy we went to Toul. The old hospital has returned to its original use as barracks, but looks just the same. We took a little narrow gauge train out of Toul for Thiancourt. The cars had only wooden seats and the train ran about 10 miles per hour, but it was very interesting when we got on the old battle line. One of the American gas shoots about which we study in C. W. school is one which was carried out at Pilroy, so I was particularly interested when we passed Pilroy on the train, to see all the old projectiles piled up along the railroad where they have recently been dug up and a little further along when we got into the German lines we saw piles of the old bursted gas demons which had fallen there.

"Thiancourt is still a wreck. I hadn't realized that it would be so bad. We got an attic room over a cafe and then walked out to the cemetery. Mr. Allen, the care taker, is an ex-officer and a Mason and certainly is a fine fellow. He has a French wife who is also very nice. We found Elmer Dooley's grave, but none other that I knew. Unfortunately the cemetery isn't very pretty now, for it has been very dry and a lot of improvements are just being started. The work is in good hands, however, and within a year it will be beautiful, I am sure.

"The next morning Mr. Allen took me in his truck over to the Grande Fontaine Woods, where G. and H. companies had such an exciting time on the 16th of September. We were looking for a man from Company G, who was killed, and apparently never found. I took him right to the place where we captured the hill, machine guns and prisoners and we found several good weapons for American graves. Naturally nature will make some changes in nearly five years, but it is surprising how nearly intact that place is. I picked up American cartridges right where we fired them that day, and everything came back to me as if it had happened only a day or two before. That morning was certainly worth the trip. We hired an auto to take us to Verdun, and the woman who owned it very kindly took us to Regneville where the Fifth Division 'jumped' first. So we saw that and Viville, and then went on to Verdun.

"It would take too long to tell all about Verdun and the Meuse Argonne now, and I will do it later. We stayed there that night and in the morning hired a car and went up the river to Dun-sur-meuse and Milly (where the candle stick came from); then across the river and through Aincourt and Cuneil to Romagne. There we looked at the graves of a lot of the old Sixth Inf. officers. It certainly is a wonderful sight, that great sea of white crosses. You can see it as a white blur for miles. From there we came by Madelon, from there by Modencourt and back to Verdun. After we had eaten, we took another auto trip around the forts of Verdun, which was indeed interesting. In this little area a million men were killed, of which only a few thousand have ever been found and buried.

"We stopped at Fort Vaux and Fort Douaumont, and at the 'Payant Trench' where the rifles and bayonets of a whole company of French soldiers still protrude from the ground where they were buried when the trench caved in on them. We came from Verdun to Luxembourg yesterday and last evening ran out to Torgue, the site of the old Fifth Division school. Enjoyed various friends made at places where we had been billeted."

LEAGUE EFFICIENCY IN PRACTICE SHOWN SOMEWHAT FRAGILE

Charge Made by Branting Brings Lively Discussion.

(By the Associated Press)

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—A lively discussion over the covenant of the League of Nations which Hjalmar Branting, of Sweden, charged had shown itself to be fragile in practice, gave the Geneva delegations again a dramatic tone. The sub-commission was considering the proposed pact for mutual assistance which was provisionally arranged at Paris as a compromise of the British and French conceptions of the project when Mr. Branting arose and said the treaty appeared to be all guaranteed, and no disarmament and more coercive than conciliatory.

After all, he declared, the covenant of the league had in practice proved ineffective. He questioned whether it was wise to adopt the more stringent measures provided in the new treaty when they could not enforce things already existing.

Lord Cecil's Protest.

This allusion to the Greco-Italian crisis brought Lord Robert Cecil to his feet with the vigorous assertion that there was no question that the league had lived up to its duties. He argued that the league could be conciliatory and coercive at the same time and that there was no justification for any charge that the league had failed. Lord Robert tried to make clear that as there had been doubt raised as to the competency of the league in the Greco-Italian crisis, the league by its collaboration with the ambassador's council and not avoid- ing its duty and declared that the occupation of Corfu, if it clearly came within the purview of the league was merely in suspense, pending clarification of the eventual Italian attitude.

Who Must Sacrifice.

Information received at Geneva that Premier Mussolini might withdraw his troops from Corfu, the assassin of the mem- bers of the Italian boundary commission were convicted and ex- ecuted, is regarded as increasing the chances that the assembly will soon insist upon a discussion of the league's competency.

Lord Robert Cecil closed his speech this afternoon with the remark that the small nations must be ready to make sacrifices.

A REMINISCENCE

The death of Robert Ransom brings vividly to my mind scenes of many years ago. In 1866 Prof. Crampton started the Jacksonville Business college in the third story of the Chambers block now occupied by Messrs. Andre & Andre. E. H. Bowman was the first teacher of bookkeeping and G. C. Hall of penmanship.

I was the first graduate taking my diploma in the fall and at once being installed as teacher in place of Mr. Bowman. Among my pupils were E. L. McDonald, Lon Brackett, Mr. Watt of Winchester, George B. Daniels of Joy Prairie, Marshall Green, later of this city, O. J. McAllister, S. A. Eddleman, Robert Ransom, W. T. Bowman, now a successful physician, highly prized and respected in Nevada, Mo., Mr. J. L. George, Moore of Criswell, J. P. Williamson, the veteran cro- ker, Bessie Kirby, Hannah Evans, Mr. Richardson, Will Edman, Walter Dunlap, Mr. Swinton and many others not known here. I well remember one strange character named Wase. He was not known here at all and later we found he was wanted in some other locality.

I remember, as the college grew more teaching forces were needed and Newton Tutledge was added to the force. He left to study for the ministry and on- day and a wide awake, rather voracious young man from Fulton county appeared on the scene.

We little thought at the time how prominent the name of G. W. Brown would become in business college circles. Of the students of those days Miss Irving now Mrs. James L. Barrows, and Messrs. Fairbank and McAllister are the only ones living in the vicinity. Some time since I met a grey haired man from Winchester and he proved to be Mr. Watt, the student mentioned above and we had a pleasant talk over old times.

Seldom does the world produce such a character as Prof. Crampton. He possessed a marvelous mind and could grasp a proposition so readily he hardly knew how to place himself in the position of a dull student though he always aimed to be kind and con- siderate. He was a noble man and those who knew him well fully appreciated his worth. As was said once of Robert White, one of the most brilliant students who ever attended Illinois col- lege. "He swears by Prof. Crampton."

C. & A. MAY HAVE ITS OWN PUBLICATION

Institution of a "C. & A. Magazine" is Being Given Thought by that Road—Has Never Had Regularly Issued Periodical.

White Hall, Sept. 12.—The institution of a Chicago and Alton Magazine is a matter that has been given thought in traffic and transportation circles of "that road" for the past few years and the idea is growing to an extent that might possibly come to a realization at no great distant day. Some of the larger railroads have been conducting such a publication for a number years, notably the New York Central the Illinois Central, the Santa Fe and the Salt Lake Route.

The experience has been that such facilities promote understandings that render the administration of these properties less difficult and with increased returns. The increased efficiency that grows out of discussions that crystallize in uniform action in reducing the number of damage claims and encouraging a spirit of loyalty that awakens the employee to bring business to their respective companies. Then there is the added advantage of promoting interests of the various communities thru which the lines pass, giving the company the employee and the public at large mutual interest in the value of transportation facilities, as well as promoting the material and moral qualities of the communities served.

Recently a copy of Jacksonville who is highly educated and widely traveled, came into possession of a copy of the Illinois Central Magazine and subsequent copies. She wondered if other roads had the same service. In considering the matter she remarked: "The C. & A. should have as interesting material to put in such a publication. There are as efficient men and as efficient service on the C. & A. as any other road." The Illinois Central not only publishes a magazine, but the results have been so satisfactory that the appropriation for the purpose has each year been increased to such an extent that monthly talks by President C. H. Markham are carried in newspapers thruout the Illinois Central territory with increased benefit in the promotion of understanding and efficiency among all concerned.

The Chicago & Alton has never ventured into the publication of such a periodical regularly issued, but the first intimation that such an idea was on C. & A. official minds occurred a few years ago when E. H. Barker, division passenger agent at Springfield engaged in a line of conversation about it which in Whitehall that indicated he had given it lengthy consideration. Again the idea was favored by D. J. Deasey, trainmaster at Foodhouse, who is known to have taken the idea up with S. P. Henderson, superintendent at Bloomington. The latter is the sort of official who encourages loyalty in a large measure, is a man of vision, and he has caused him to confirm his previous attitude that it would give him pleasure if the management would inaugurate the publication of a "Chicago & Alton Magazine" believing that such a magazine would certainly spirit of cooperation and also add to the interest of the employees in the company's affairs.

PRETTY BAD

The city girl boarding in the country spoke to the farmer about the way in which the cow re- lated her.

"Well," said the farmer, "it must be on account of that red waist- coat wearing."

"Dear me," cried the girl, "Oh, come, I know it's terribly out of style, but I had no idea a country cow would notice it."

ers' Union to call upon the United Mine Workers of America to restore Alex. Howatt and August Dorchy of the Kansas miners to good standing. The convention by a huge majority refused to act but referred the matter to the United Mine Workers of America without comment.

A unanimous vote carried the other Carlinville resolution offered by President Henry Van Pelt, which demands the immediate release of Thomas Mooney and his colleagues of San Francisco.

Invitations for the next federation of labor convention were received today from Springfield and the Twin Cities of Cham- paign and Urbana. Previous bids had been made by Peoria and East St. Louis.

Decision of the matter will be some time today, and it is predicted by Peoria delegates that they have canvassed sufficient delegates to give them confidence Peoria will be selected. Huge posters bearing the Peoria and East St. Louis invitation cover the convention walls.

How Mothers Friend aids Expectant Mothers at Child-birth

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. I felt it coming on this time, I said to myself, 'I won't let it get me down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend.'"

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

COLLEGE RAMBLER TO EMPLOY NEWS STAFF

Editors in City Arranging for First Issue Under New Plan—Wide Possibilities for New Chem Lab—Many Minor Improvements on Campus.

Emert Wittaschek and Russell Chaney, who are to have charge of the Illinois College Rambler during the coming year, are in the city and are arranging for the first issue of the publication under the new plan adopted near the close of last year. The Rambler is to be issued weekly and will take the form of a college newspaper of four pages, rather than literary publication. Reporters will be selected from among the students and the Rambler will have a regular staff of editors and "news hounds." The paper will be issued every Thursday.

Improvements at the college have been in progress during the summer, and many of them have already been mentioned by the press. However, there are some minor changes which will add to the appearance and attractiveness of the buildings. The wood-work on the exterior of Beecher Hall has been repainted, as have also the walls of the interior of the college dormitory on the campus. The interior of the offices of the secretary, the dean and the president have been redecorated.

The new tennis court east of the Jones chapel building is practically completed, and the court on the Academy lawn will be finished in a few days. Owing to the continuous rains the two courts east of Beecher Hall have not been finished, and considerable work remains to be done.

There will be a delay of several days in the completion of the new chemistry laboratory in the basement of Sturtevant Hall, owing to the inability of the contractors to secure the material for the resolute floor. However, it is expected to have the laboratory ready for use in two or three weeks after college opens.

At present the additional room for chemistry classes will serve only to care for the increasing registration in that department. Later, however, it may lead to the giving of both the Organic Chemistry and the Advanced quantitative courses in the same year, instead of alternately as at present, and it may also bring about the addition of another instructor in this department.

Mrs. Reid, formerly Miss Maude Nesmith, has returned to the secretary's office and will continue to serve in that capacity for a few weeks, until her successor is appointed.

The rooms in Crampton are filling with returning students. A number of the older boys are already back in town and are making themselves at home in the familiar atmosphere of the "dorm."

Freshman students who have failed to send in their reservations during the summer may find themselves eliminated by the new rule that only 150 freshmen can be admitted to the college. Unless there are some cancellations in registrations previously made, additional freshmen who have waited for the regular registration days to enroll may have difficulty in securing admission.

COLLEGE RAMBLER TO EMPLOY NEWS STAFF

Editors in City Arranging for First Issue Under New Plan — Wide Possibilities for New Clean Lab—Many Minor Improvements on Campus.

Emert Wittscheck and Russell Chaney, who are to have charge of the Illinois College Rambler during the coming year, are in the city and are arranging for the first issue of the publication under the new plan adopted near the close of last year. The Rambler is to be issued weekly and will take the form of a college newspaper of four pages, rather than a literary publication. Reports will be selected from among the students and the Rambler will have a regular staff of editors and "news hounds." The paper will be issued every Thursday.

Improvements at the college have been in progress during the summer, and many of them have already been mentioned by the press. However, there are some minor changes which will add to the appearance and attractiveness of the buildings. The woodwork on the exterior of Beecher Hall has been repaired, as have also the walls of the interior of the college dormitory on the campus. The interior of the offices of the secretary, the dean and the president have been redecorated.

The new tennis court east of the Jones chapel building is practically completed, and the court on the Academy lawn will be finished in a few days. Owing to the continuous rains the two courts east of Beecher Hall have not been finished, and considerable work remains to be done.

There will be a delay of several days in the completion of the new chemistry laboratory in the basement of Sturtevant Hall, owing to the inability of the contractors to secure the material for the resilient floor. However, it is expected to have the laboratory ready for use in two or three weeks after college opens.

At present the additional room for chemistry classes will serve only to care for the increasing registration in that department. Later, however, it may lead to the giving of both the Organic Chemistry and the Advanced Quantitative courses in the same year, instead of alternately as at present, and it may also bring about the addition of another instructor in this department.

Mrs. Reid, formerly Miss Maude Nesmith, has returned to the secretary's office and will continue to serve in that capacity for a few weeks, until her successor is appointed.

The rooms in Crampton are filling with returning students. A number of the older boys are already back in town and are making themselves at home in the familiar atmosphere of the "dorm."

Freshman students who have failed to send in their reservations during the summer may find themselves eliminated by the new rule that only 150 freshmen can be admitted to the college. Unless there are some cancellations in registrations previously made, additional freshmen who have waited for the regular registration days to enroll may have difficulty in securing admission.

ON THE FOOT BALL PRACTICE FIELD

The football squad of the Jacksonville high school to the number of 40 candidates was out yesterday afternoon on the new grounds secured from the School for the Deaf in charge of Coach Mitchell. The candidates were divided into three squads and spent most of the evening practicing formations.

Coach Robey Burns also had about 40 candidates out at the deaf school putting them through a workout in tackling and falling on the ball.

From the appearances of the men neither coach should have much trouble in rounding out a well balanced team for the season even though they may have lost some of their star players last year thru graduation.

LUIS ANGEL FIRPO WINDS UP TRAINING

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. Sept. 12.—(By the A. P.)—A light bag punching, rope skipping and shadow boxing workout lasting less than ten minutes, ended Luis Angel Firpo's training today for the world's championship fight with Jack Dempsey in New York Friday night. Immediately after the workout the Argentine and his party boarded a train for New York.

More than five hundred persons were in the grandstands to see the South American go thru his final exercises. They were disappointed because he did not spar and Luis directed that all admissions be refunded.

Luis Angel seemed in superb battle condition. He declared he was in a fighting mood, and then he dismissed thoughts of the fight.

Trainer LaValle before starting for New York sent a cablegram to Felix Bunge, the South American sportsman who has been the long distance instructor of the Argentine fighter. LaValle told Bunge that their man was in condition and that they expected a great battle and victory.

FIRPO REACHES NEW YORK, DEMPSEY LATER

Will Weigh in Friday Afternoon—All in Readiness—Predict Record Breaking Crowds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(By The Associated Press)—Fans tonight began to scent the "smoke" of battle—that atmosphere peculiarly confined to heavyweight championship fights—with the title struggle between Jack Dempsey, champion, and Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine challenger but two days off.

The first of the rival gladiators reached New York tonight when Firpo arrived at 8 o'clock from his training camp in Atlantic City. The grim-visaged South American gazed with accustomed taciturnity at a small sized crowd that greeted him then was whisked away to an up-town apartment where he will remain in seclusion until the afternoon of the fight.

Dempsey is expected to break camp tomorrow, arriving here in the afternoon. Friday afternoon he will meet his challenger for the first time when they appear before the state athletic commission to weigh in.

Followers of both fighters declared today at the conclusion of training camps that they were conditioned to perfection. They will enter the ring at the Polo Grounds fit for the greatest test of their careers.

Great Seat Sale Tex Rickard tonight predicted a sell-out of tickets. The promoter declared this would mean that close to 85,000 would pay approximately $1,300,000 to see the fight. His figures today were well past the $1,100,000 mark.

"This fight would have broken the record gate of $1,600,000 set by the Dempsey-Carpenter match," said Rickard. "If similar prices had been charged. The Dempsey-Firpo demand has been much greater than for the 'Battle of the Century' but now the top is $27.50, whereas two years ago in Jersey City it was $50."

Construction of the ringside, temporary bleacher sections and other additions to the Polo Grounds will be completed by noon tomorrow said the promoter.

Little change was reported today in betting odds.

Among those of note expected to attend the match are Kermit and Archie Roosevelt, Charles Sabin, Mortimer Schiff and W. A. Harriman, financiers; George M. Cohan, Harry Frazee, David Belasco, William A. Brady, theatrical producers; Clarence Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph company; Foxhall Keene, Babe Ruth, Jim Corbett, former heavyweight champion and Frank Munsey, publisher.

INDEES EXTEND SERIES WITH MURRAYVILLE

Arrangements have been made according to Manager Frank Smith of the Indees to play a seven game series with the Murrayville Merchants instead of a five game series as previously arranged.

The fourth game of the series will take place Sunday and practically the same lineups will be used by both teams. As matters now stand, the Merchants have a lead of one game on the locals who are threatening strongly to teach the visitors that they have no business with the bulge of the games, and whether they like it or not they will probably have to go home from Sunday's game loser. In that case with two all there should be some real scrapping for the rest of the series as these two teams have always put up a real fight when pitted against each other.

From the appearances of the men neither coach should have much trouble in rounding out a well balanced team for the season even though they may have lost some of their star players last year thru graduation.

The fourth game of the series will take place Sunday and practically the same lineups will be used by both teams. As matters now stand, the Merchants have a lead of one game on the locals who are threatening strongly to teach the visitors that they have no business with the bulk of the games, and whether they like it or not they will probably have to go home from Sunday's game loser. In that case with two all there should be some real scrapping for the rest of the series as these two teams have always put up a real fight when pitted against each other.

Market Report

DEPRESSION HAS HIT THE STOCK MARKET

FINANCIAL
Stock sales $76,000 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 92.7; net loss 1.54. High 1923, 105.38; low 86.92. Twenty railroads averaged 86.23; net loss 1.25. High 1923, 90.51; low 79.53. Total bond sales $7,206,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Stock prices turned decidedly heavy in today's market after an initial period of moderate strength. The selling is reported to have originated largely from bear operators, but the ease with which stocks lost ground induced considerable profit-taking with result that the day's sales were the largest in some time. The only apparent reason for the burst of selling was the report of a curtailment of steel operations contained in the weekly trade reviews. Steel shares dropped 2 to 4 points and this had a depressing effect on the rails, oils, equipments and other standard issues, which also registered substantial losses.

United States Steel common dropped 3 points to 90 1/2. Gulf States Steel was off 3/4 at 83 1/2, and Republic was off 3/4 at 47 1/2. Coston was again one of the most active issues on the board, more than 70,000 shares changing hands.

The stock closed at 35, off 24, on selling, attributed in some quarters to reports that some of the larger independents were in need of new financing.

The Iron Age, in its weekly review, states that "the first ten business days of September have passed without improvement in new buying of steel products to the extent that had been expected."

It also declares that "apart from the buying of 30,000 to 40,000 kegs of nails for early shipment, little of the inquiry for Japan has been received in business as yet," adding "that it is believed several months will elapse before the real construction needs of the stricken districts can be definitely known."

Some of the outstanding losses in the industrial division were Baldwin, American Can, Corn Products, American Tobacco, C. DuPont, Houston Oil, Woolworth, Stewart Warner, National Lead and Central Leather preferred, off 2 1/2 to nearly 6 points.

The weekly active members of the railroad group included New York Central, which dropped 1 1/2 points on what was generally described as profit-taking. Italian lire dropped 7 1/2 points to 4.40 c, and German marks fell below 1 cent a million.

United States government bonds moved irregularly within a narrow limit.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD SUCCESSFUL PICNIC

Murrayville Lodge Sponsored Big Gathering Wednesday—W. H. Hubbard Made Address

The I. O. O. F. picnic which was held in the park at Murrayville Wednesday from 11:30 in the morning until 8:30 Wednesday evening was a pronounced success in every way. A good crowd was in attendance all during the day and the greater part of 135 fried chickens and 300 gallons of burgoo soup were disposed of along with other edibles. The music for the occasion was furnished by Barth's orchestra from Roodhouse and William H. Hubbard, Past Grand Master was the speaker of the day. The program of music and readings as previously published was very satisfactorily carried out.

During the day various contests were held the prizes for which were all given by the members of the lodge. The contests and winners are given below:

STETSON'S BIG "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" COMPANY

Leon W. Washburn's gigantic scenic production of the original Stetson "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, will be the magnet to draw the public to the Grand theater, for matinee and evening performances, Saturday, September 15th. Mr. Washburn has successfully solved the problem of combining the old and new version of this well known drama into a spectacular play, that leaves out nothing worth retaining in either the straight or circus method. All worthy features of the old landmark are retained, while the thread of the story has been cleverly reconstructed, making it more coherent; this, with the introduction of several specialties of the better class, thoroughly in keeping with the character of the play, gives a splendid evening's entertainment.

The fact that the plot is familiar, that most of the jokes have mingled with us so long they are recognized as old friends, that we know what is going to happen as soon as the delphic curtain goes up, doesn't make any difference.

M. E. CONFERENCE IS NOW ASSEMBLING

First Public Meeting of Conference at Champaign Held Tuesday—Speculation Rife as to General Conference Candidates.

(By C. R. Morrison.) Champaign, Ill., Sept. 12.—(Special to the Journal).—The Illinois Conference of the Methodist church, meets a week later this year, so as to avoid the extreme heat, such as was experienced last year at Decatur. Whether it is a winner remains to be seen. Three public meetings were held today. At two o'clock the Conference Board of Education began its session, followed at 3 o'clock by the Annual meeting of the Preacher's Aid Society, B. F. Shipp, president, presiding, and H. C. Gibbs acting as secretary. This was held in the auditorium of the church. At 7:30 Bishop Nicholson addressed the congregation and conference on the outlook, taking occasion to refer to his recent visit this summer as a fraternal visitor to the Irish Wesleyan Conference at Belfast and the English Wesleyan Conference at Bristol, England. It was an interesting outlook on Irish and English Methodism—and served as a prelude to the work at hand here in America. As president of the Anti-Saloon League of America, Bishop Nicholson's opinion and viewpoint respecting prohibition and the Volstead act, was earnestly sought at both conferences.

Bishop's Cabinet. Mrs. B. F. Harris is host to the presiding bishop and visiting Bishop Oldham, also the Bishop's Cabinet in duty session, though the District Superintendents are lodged elsewhere. E. L. Pletcher of Jacksonville District is at the Inman Hotel, as is also E. S. Combs of the Quincy District.

Dr. E. M. Antrim of the Springfield District and Dr. T. N. Ewing of the Decatur District are entertained in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Byrns of the Champaign-Danville District.

Dr. C. M. Duncan of the Bloomington District is being entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Sandmeyer, at the First Church Urbana parsonage, while Dr. W. D. Fairchild of the Mattoon District is being entertained by former friends, Mr. and Mrs. Burwash, 714 West Green street. That there was no session of the cabinet Tuesday evening indicated that the preliminary work was well under way, and these "sub-bishops" were left to confer together and with their preachers and visiting laymen, as to future adjustments.

The Parish House. The $150,000 addition to the original stone church (which could not be built today for twice that amount) was subject to inspection by all the visiting brethren. It is the latest and best work in modern ecclesiastical construction. It was begun by a gift of $35,000 from Mrs. Col. Wolfe, and on dedication day the total cost was provided for. It is a masterpiece of high, with basement, and equipped with every convenience and necessity.

General Conference Candidates. Aside from the laymen, who have given much publicity to their electioneering plans, the ministers are doing some consulting also. Being well acquainted with each other, it is not necessary to resort to appeals and arguments through the media. Some of the ministers have more than mere ecclesiastical reasons for going to Springfield, Mass., next May. Dr. A. R. Byrns and wife, had a beautiful wedding ceremony at the district parsonage in June, when Guinevere, their daughter and only child, was married to a young and talented minister, the Baptist church, who is now in Springfield Mass., in charge of the large and flourishing church of that denomination. Dr. E. M. Antrim, of Springfield, Ill., also leaving to take charge of Oklahoma City, (Okla.) College, was formerly pastor of the large and influential church at Springfield, Mass., where he has many friends who hope to see him and wife in May next year.

The first ballot at conference usually contains about seventy-five to a hundred names and usually one or two receive a majority vote and are elected. At the last conference election three were elected on the first ballot: J. C. Baker, J. W. VanCleave and W. J. Davidson. Mr. VanCleave has been seriously ill for more than a year, and it is thought that his ministerial career is about over. Drs. Baker and Davidson are in leadership in conference councils, and enjoy the confidence of the church locally and in general. There is being circulated thru-out the church at the near approach of conference, when elections are held for the selection of delegates to General Conference, this advice: "Vote for your district superintendent as a candidate on first ballot, but on no other." Dr. D. W. Howell, of the Deacons Board, shows however, in a recent article in the "Northwestern Christian Advocate," that this caste among ministers is to be deplored, and is in fact only a fear. At the last General Conference there were 41 per cent of its members chosen from the ranks of such superintendents, while 33 per cent of the entire delegation came from the pastoral ranks—and if followed up it would be found that the 8 per cent difference would be overcome, by the return of these superintendents to the pastoral office since that time. Also that more than 8 per cent difference arose from the fact that in the Foreign Conferences and among the Colored Conference, it is quite the custom and almost the necessity to select those who are in leadership from this class of officials.

While there may be some surprises the eight men likely to be chosen will be from among this list of fourteen men:

J. C. Baker, W. J. Davidson, T. N. Ewing, W. D. Fairchild, A. K. Byrns, F. A. McCarty, E. L. Pletcher, C. M. Lucan, J. C. Nate, E. M. Antrim, W. H. McPherson, E. G. Sandmeyer, H. A. Keck, E. S. Combs.

Notes. W. S. Phillips is again in leadership of the singing with J. A. Betcher as assistant. Mr. Phillips has been officially invited to return to the Carlville pastorate for the seventh year. Mrs. Phillips is with him here at Conference.

C. H. Davis of Mahomet goes into Anti-Saloon League work and has moved to Deland, Florida, where he has been assigned a district under the state superintendent. He has been in effective work for 28 years. He has served the churches of Chapin, Meredosia, Griggsville and one year (1915-16) the Jacksonville circuit.

GIFTS FOR PASSAVANT

The ladies of the various churches in the city have already started their work of assisting Passavant hospital in preparing surgical dressings and along other lines of endeavor.

The Ladies Aid of Centenary M. E. church have prepared over 1,400 dressings, and the Baptist Woman's union have furnished 1,270 dressings besides spending one afternoon sewing in which time they made 40 wrappers and marked 40 gowns.

Daily donations of fruit are also being received at the hospital not only from friends in Jacksonville and Morgan county, but last week a box of flowers and a dozen glasses of jelly were received from a lady resident of Winchester. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sullivan who attended the dedication of the Christian church at White Hall Sunday brought back with them flowers sufficient to make 29 bouquets for the patients of the hospital. Other friends have also made large donations of flowers and the Centenary Sunday school send to the grades weekly the three different grades of Sunday school papers. All of these things being very highly appreciated by the patients and staff of the hospital.

Mark Baldwin, a business man of Duluth, Minn., visited Tuesday at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. Carl E. Black. He had been to Griggsville to attend the wedding of his niece and stopped here on his way back home. His brother, Attorney C. O. Baldwin of Duluth, who is a graduate of Illinois college, was also a guest at the marriage and has remained in Griggsville for a visit with relatives.

Sum of $300 Needed to Complete Minimum of $1,700 for City and County—Personal Canvass to Be Made by Committees Today

Subscriptions to the relief fund to be sent to the aid of the stricken cities of Japan have now reached the $1,400 mark in this city. Owing to the fact that the minimum quota for the city and county is $1,700, an attempt will be made to raise the additional $300 by some personal solicitation. Jacksonville should not be one whit behind the other cities in Illinois and thruout the nation in extending the helping hand to those who are in need across the water. Earthquakes and resulting calamities are unavoidable and the world must not stand back in aiding those of its inhabitants who fall victims to such disasters.

Committees have been appointed and the work of soliciting for the remainder of the local quota will start today. It is hoped to raise the full amount in a few hours, and to send the money immediately to where it can be put to the best use. Jacksonville business men and citizens have already responded splendidly; but in order that the city and county may meet their full obligations in this crisis, the brief campaign for additional funds is being undertaken thru the Morgan county chapter of the Red Cross. Additional subscriptions reported yesterday, and which aided in bringing the sum subscribed to $1,400 by last night are as follows:

SELLS-FLOTO SHOW COMING SOON

There are all sorts of interesting things for the girl performers with Sells-Floto circus to do when they are not working in their acts, and Bee Starr, find Prince, the star bruiser in "Night in Persia," the gorgeous opening spectacle of the show, wonderful pet affectionate, playful, with a gift for the snappy retort, expressed with quick shoves of his clownish snout.

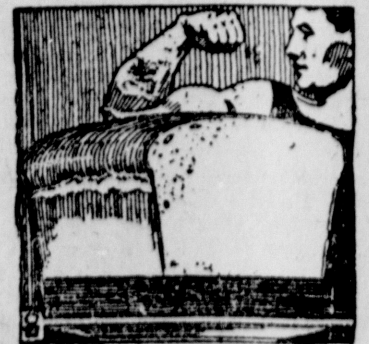

When Sells-Floto comes to Jacksonville Sunday and exhibit Monday, you'll see the two star Bee and Prince. Bee Starr is one of the five girl aerial stars in the two Flying Ward troupe, and she is known on the lot as "The shooting Starr," while Prince stars in the great spectacle and in the menagerie, especially when someone comes along with crackerjack. Prince is an old trapper, and he's been eating crackerjack for years, but never has he had his fill.

STETSON'S BIG "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" COMPANY

Leon W. Washburn's gigantic scenic production of the original Stetson "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, will be the magnet to draw the public to the Grand theater, for matinee and evening performances, Saturday, September 15th.

Mr. Washburn has successfully solved the problem of combining the old and new version of this well known drama into a spectacular play, that leaves out nothing worth retaining in either the straight or circus method. All worthy features of the old landmark are retained, while the thread of the story has been cleverly reconstructed, making it more coherent; this, with the introduction of several specialties of the better class, thoroughly in keeping with the character of the play, gives a splendid evening's entertainment.

The fact that the plot is familiar, that most of the jokes have mingled with us so long they are recognized as old friends, that we know what is going to happen as soon as the deliberate curtain goes up, doesn't make any difference.

Word has been received in Jacksonville of the birth of a daughter on September 10th to Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Walsh, former residents of Jacksonville but now residing in Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. Meyers of Carlville is visiting at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Meyer at 1020 North Fayette street.

TO SOLICIT REST OF JAPAN RELIEF QUOTA

Sum of $300 Needed to Complete Minimum of $1,700 for City and County—Personal Canvass to Be Made by Committees Today

Subscriptions to the relief fund to be sent to the aid of the stricken cities of Japan have now reached the $1,400 mark in this city. Owing to the fact that the minimum quota for the city and county is $1,700, an attempt will be made to raise the additional $300 by some personal solicitation. Jacksonville should not be one whit behind the other cities in Illinois and thruout the nation in extending the helping hand to those who are in need across the water. Earthquakes and resulting calamities are unavoidable and the world must not stand back in aiding those of its inhabitants who fall victims to such disasters.

Committees have been appointed and the work of soliciting for the remainder of the local quota will start today. It is hoped to raise the full amount in a few hours, and to send the money immediately to where it can be put to the best use. Jacksonville business men and citizens have already responded splendidly, but in order that the city and county may meet their full obligations in this crisis, the best campaign for additional funds is being undertaken thru the Morgan county chapter of the Red Cross. Additional subscription reported yesterday, which added in bringing the sum subscribed to $1,400 by last night are as follows:

County Superintendent of Highways L. V. Baldwin is frequently in communication with the W. C. Monnelly Co., which has the contract for the construction of the hard road west of the city. Everything is in readiness for the all-day picnic to be given at Woodson today under the auspices of the Woodson band and the American Legion Post, No. 249. ## SELLS-FLOTO SHOW COMING 300

There are all sorts of interesting things for the girl performer with Sells-Floto circus to do when they are not working their acts, and Bee Starr, fin Prince, the star bruin in "Night in Persia," the gorge opening spectacle of the show, wonderful pet affectionate, playful, with a gift for the snap report, expressed with quiver of his clownish snout.

When Sells-Floto comes Jacksonville Sunday and exhibit Monday, you'll see the two star boys and the five girl aerial stars.

The two Flying Ward troupe and she is known on the lot. "The shooting Starr," who Prince stars in the great spectacle and in the menagerie, specially when someone can along with crackjack. He is an old trainer, and he's been eating crackjack for years, I never has he had his fill.
